BOY, 5, SHOT DEAD BY HIS PLAYMATE

New Bedford, Nov. 23.—The body of Medi, five-year-old son of Hayden Harn, was found today in the home of John Pyra, a neighbor on Coggeshall street, shot through the heart. Medi and his six-year-old chum, Joseph Pyra, were playing in the Pyra's back yard. Joe found the revolver in a drawer. He went up to Medi, according to the story told by the police by Medi's brother, Harold Harn, six, placed it against Medi's chest and pulled the trigger. The little fellow dropped. Frightened, Joseph leaped out of the bedroom window to the street and ran off. He has not been seen since. Medi was killed instantly.

'I LOST $2,500 ON A BET'

Paid No Money to Councilmen, Alleged Bagman Declares at Graft Probe

Former Senator John J. Gartland, alleged "bagman" in the Baldwin place land deal, declared today at the Finance Commission investigation that he lost the $2,000 given him by David Bailen, one of the members of the congregation, betting on the primaries.

Yesterday he had declined to say what he had done with the money, declaring it was "put to a purpose that was against the law." He was not asked to say on whom he had bet, but to newspapermen at the hearing he said that he had bet $2,500 on District Attorney O'Brien. Questioned by Attorney Dowling, counsel for the commission, he said the bet was made with Andrew Sullivan of South Boston. He did not know his address, he said, but would find out. He was unable to recall who held the stake. This also he would endeavor to find out. The stakeholder he described as "a friend of Andrew Sullivan—a man about forty years old, grayish and of my build." Testimony was also introduced at Continued on Page 3, Column 1.

FALLS INTO TUB OF HOT WATER; DIES

Mrs. Albert Allen of No. 13 Parrell street, East Cambridge, interrupted her scrubbing of the kitchen floor to arrange the bed in the next room and left a tub of boiling water on the kitchen floor. Her three-year-old son, Francis J., toddled over toward the steaming water and fell into it. His screams attracted the mother who found him floundering in the tub. The boy was fatally burned. He died in St. Elizabeth's City Hospital, where he had been taken.

HARD COAL GOING SHY, SAYS PHELAN

The people of Massachusetts must make up their minds they will be forced to go through this winter with a million less tons of hard coal than their ordinary requirements. Emergency Fuel Administrator James J. Phelan wrote Governor Cox today. "They will have to make up that loss by the use of substitutes, such as soft coal, wood, gas and fuel oil," he said. The public must awake from its apathy and take advantage of the fact there are plenty of substitutes on hand, he said, and they ought to be used as much as possible before hard winter weather sets in.

BAY STATE ACCLAIMS 'TIGER'

Boston's Great Welcome Touches Heart of French War Premier

The "Tiger" is in town. Georges Clemenceau, grand old "citoyen" of France, arrived today from New York to give his personal message to Boston and New England.

A broad smile broke on the grizzled face of the eighty-one-year-old statesman when he stepped from the private car of Charles M. Schwab in the South Station and heard the acclaim of the station throng. More smiles came as he was escorted through Boston streets to the chaise of thousands lining the way to greet him. Precautions were taken along the way, and particularly in Boston, to insure his safety, following a death threat mailed him in New York.

In Boston the police and military authorities and government agents combined in elaborate arrangements to guard him. Lieutenant-Governor Alvin T. Fuller in greeting M. Clemenceau at the South Station said: "M. Clemenceau, citizen of the Republic."

DOROTHY'S AUNT AIDS JARDINES

Entered as Witness in Gordon Cue Despite Protests of Uncle's Counsel

With the stage all set for the second act of the famous Dorothy Gordon case, developments came today which resulted in a postponement of the hearing from tomorrow to January 23.

While George A. Pover is retained as auditor in the case, it will be resumed, not before him, as announced, but before Judge Leggett in Middlesex Probate Court, East Cambridge.

A court stenographer's bill for $700 caused the change of venue. And a new character will step into the limelight.

In the intermission between the first and second acts of what seems to be an intrigue of greed and selfish interests, many things happened to change phases of the case. Into the cast of the drama, in which Dorothy Gordon is the hapless heroine, these steps one who, up to this point, has waited in the wings in the hope that she might not have to step into the spotlight that Continued on Page 9, Column 1.

HUNT COUNCILMAN WALSH WITH SUMMONS

Constables armed with summonses are searching for City Councilman William J. Walsh and Mrs. Catherine E. Donahue in connection with the Finance Commission graft probe. All testimony offered by Bernard S. Gordon at the Finance Commission hearing was thrown out today by order of Chairman Sullivan. Councilman David J. Brickley has promised to appear before the commission tomorrow. He said he could not do so today as he had not consulted an attorney. Mrs. Donahue of No. 1455 Washington street is alleged to have deposited $300 of the money paid Gartland on September 8.

GARTLAND SAYS AT GRAFT INQUIRY HE LOST $2,500 ON A BET SWEARS NO MONEY GIVEN TO CITY COUNCILORS

today's session that Councilor David Brickley and William J. Walsh deposited several hundred dollars in cash the day following Gartland's receipt of $2,000 from Helen.

This testimony was given by bank employee.

A further session was held into the hearing when Attorney Daniel T. O'Connell, counsel for Isaac Heller, president of the Congregation Beth Israel, introduced a motion to the commission asking permission to cross-examine Bernard S. Gordon, a former witness, declaring that he had perjured himself and apparently was insane. The committee took the motion under advisement.

Gordon was the witness who declared Heller told him "Everybody at City Hall had to be paid, from the Big Chief down."

Heller, later on the stand, denied he ever made such an assertion. Gartland was questioned by Attorney Dowling:

Q—What do you now say that you did with the $2,000 given you by David Bullen on September 7? A—I regarded it as the primary.

Q—With which do you make the bet? A—With Andrew Sullivan of South Boston.

Q—What is his address? A—I do not know. I can get it today or to-night.

Q—Who was the stakeholder? A—I don't know who he was. He was a friend of Andrews'. I know him by sight, but not to talk to.

Q—Can't you indicate who he is? A—I can by this afternoon.

ACCOUNTS FOR MONEY.

Q—You gave the stakeholder your $2,000 and Sullivan gave him $4,000 and he held the $7,000 until the primary contest was decided? A—Yes, sir.

Q—What did you do with the other $2,000 which you got on November 1 when the certificate of deposit for that amount fell due? The certificate given you by David Sullivan, A—I used $200 of it to pay my boy's tuition at school; $40 to Mr. Riley for a claim against me; paid Mr. Radlow $50 I owed him; paid Mr. Herman $25 that I had borrowed to make some household expenses and have $1,200 of it left.

Q—Since September 7, and now, how many times have you visited City Hall? A—About every other day.

Q—How often have you visited the fourth floor? A—About once or twice a week.

Q—Did you talk with the City Councilors? A—Once in awhile.

Q—Have you seen Councilor Walsh? A—Yes, I have talked with him occasionally. I have seen him on the street or at City Hall to say "Howdy."

Q—You meet the councilors every day, don't you? A—I see some one of them everyday.

Q—Have you paid any money that you received from Bullen to any city councilor? A—No, sir.

Gartland denied he had a checking account anywhere. He said he did not own a safety deposit vault, although he would not be surprised to learn one was in his name at the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company.

TELLS OF DEPOSIT BOX.

He explained he had one three months before sixteen years ago, but lost the key. A few years ago, he said, he received a bill for rental and said the bank might still carry it in his name, although he does not use it.

Cross-examined by Attorney Dowling, Gartland denied he paid any of the money to members of the city government and also denied he had said, directly or indirectly, the cash was to be used to buy votes.

John P. Green, assistant to the auditor of the American Trust Company, testified that Councilman William J. Walsh deposited $400 in cash on September 8, the day after Gartland had received his first $2,000 and $250 two days after the former Senator received the next $2,000.

The bank employee read all the deposits made by Walsh from April 6 to October 20. He showed that up to September 8 the city councilor had never put into the bank an amount in cash as large as $400.

Edward P. Tracy, auditor of the Old Colony Trust Company, exhibited the account of Councilman David J. Brickley, which showed that on September 8 Brickley deposited $250.

DENIAL BY HELLER.

Isaac Heller, president of the Congregation Beth Israel, denied the statement of a previous witness that he ever said Mayor Curley owed Heller a political debt. He admitted he donated $200 to the Mayor's campaign fund in 1914.

Q—Do you know Mayor Curley personally? A—I have known him several years.

Q—Don't you know him very well? A—Just enough to say hello to him.

Q—How is it you contributed to his first campaign? A—I was interested in him. I was pleased at his activities in Washington when he was Congressman on behalf of the immigration bill.

RECALLED IN PROBE OF GRAFT STORIES

Q—But you are not of his party? A—No, I am a Republican.

Q—How did you come to engage Curley to sell the property to the city? A—Istaken engaged him.

Q—What did Curley say he could do to get it over? A—Nothing but what a real estate man would do.

Q—Did he say he was a friend of Mayor Curley? A—No.

Q—You hired him just as a practical real estate man? A—Yes.

Q—What do you mean by a practical real estate man? A—A man who knows what is going on; knows his business and knows ways to get over a sale.

Q—Wasn't Pinkney a practical man? A—I would not say so.

DESCRIBES MEETING.

Later today Isaac Heller from the witness stand branded Bernard S. Gordon "a liar" and "a blackmailer" and denied statements attributed to him that everyone at City Hall, from the Big Chief down had to be paid.

Heller told of the congregation meeting in which David Bullen was empowered to engage Gartland, Pinkney, Mrs. Mahon and John J. Conroy to help put the deal through. He described meetings with City Councilors Mortuary, Lane and Walsh.

Q—Will you describe your meeting with Councilor Mortuary? A—I called Mortuary up when I learned he had made a speech against the city council. He came to my office. Mortuary said he was against the proposition. He said he was for the purchase of the land for a cemetery. I replied "Sure you'd favor a cemetery and would like to see every Jew in the city buried in it in one day."

Mortuary said "Goodbye."

Mr. Lane, he said, told him he would consider the matter. Mr. Walsh, he declared, refused to commit himself beyond saying "He might be convinced either way at the meeting."

FOUNDS THE TABLE.

Q—Did you say at a meeting politicians had to get money? A—Jumping from his seat Heller shook his fist and pounded the table as he shouted: "It's a lie in every respect. A blackmailer only said that."

Q—Was any reference made of money for any person at City Hall? A—No.

FRAUD CHARGED 1,000 VIOLENT DEATHS IN HOUSE MAN 6 MONTHS

Michael Gallagher is a stationary engineer. His lodgers in the lodge house he bought from Lillian M. Witham at No. 131 West Newton street, last May, were anything but stationary, he complains.

He was told, he says, when he bought the house, that all the eight sleeping rooms were occupied by rent-paying lodgers.

But when he took possession, he declared, five of the chambers were vacant.

The price he sets forth in a bill in equity, filed in Suffolk Superior Court today, was $2,500. He paid $1,500 cash and gave a $1,000 note secured by a chattel mortgage on the furniture and furnishings.

Not only did Gallagher find five of his rooms vacant, he declares, but he also found that between the time the trade was arranged and he took possession, some of the furniture was removed.

He asks the court to enjoin Lillian M. Witham from foreclosing on the mortgage and to cancel the $1,000 note. There will be a hearing November 28.

RAILROAD TIES FOR EAST BOSTON POOR

The City of Boston will distribute to the city's poor a large quantity of railroad ties, the gift of the New England Power Company.

Mayor Curley today ordered Louis B. Hildes, secretary in charge of employment, to direct Thomas F. Rutledge, chairman of the transit department, to have teams draw the wood to the homes of those persons recommended by Captain James P. Hickey and the Boston Police.

URGES NEW RATES TO AID BOSTON

The imperative need for a resumption of shipping at Boston was pointed out at the luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the Copple-Plan today.

The speaker was E. C. Plummer, New England representative of the U. S. Shipping Board who spoke on "What Are We Aiming at in New England Shipping?"

For a long time," Mr. Plummer said, "Boston's ocean interests have been hampered by differentials on cargo charges like grain and sugar."

The justification for the original amount of that differential has been a freight subsidy.

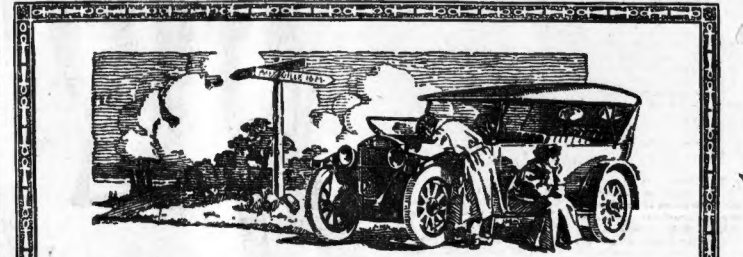

A readjustment should be had for the purpose of giving Boston the share of this country's shipping right to use the trade location and natural advantages of this always accessible harbor to proper advantage.

This port is a national as well as a local asset, the speaker declared.

WRECK BANK, WOUND THREE, SEIZE $4,000

Gallatin, Mo., Nov. 23.—Three men are seriously wounded, the First National Bank here is wrecked, telephone and telegraph wires are out and $4,000 is missing from the safe here as the result of activities today of six bank robbers.

The bandits were discovered at work by John Chamberlain, town marshal. Besides him, the bandits left off two explosions of nitro-glycerine.

Plenty of "Gas" But No SPARK

THE engine of your motor car will not run perfectly on an improper mixture of gas and air. It must be neither too "lean" nor too "rich." But even if the mixture is just right, you must have a spark to convert that latent energy into power and motion.

Your body is an engine, too. You must feed it certain fuel-foods—carbohydrates, fats, proteins and mineral nutrients in the proper proportion. But unless you eat the "spark-food" vitamin you do not convert your fuel-foods into energy.

Most human engines have a weak "spark" because many of our most popular foods are more or less deficient in vitamin.

WARD'S VITOVIM BREAD is a delicious creamy-white wheat bread supplying more of the fuel-foods than any other bread in better proportion. In other words it gives you a good "mixture." But most important of all, it also supplies the vital spark—vitamin—which converts these foods into power, energy and health.

With all its wonderful food value, WARD'S VITOVIM BREAD is the most delicious loaf ever baked. Its wonderful appetizing flavor will make you a VITOVIM devotee for life.

Don't just ask for "Bread" when you buy—specify VITOVIM Bread.

WARD'S VITOVIM BREAD THE KEY TO HEALTH

Plan Vast Terminal For Back Bay

ELECTRICITY WANTS HUBBY JAILE FOR ALIMONY

50 MILES PROPOSED

$100,000,000 Project Filed in State House to Revolutionize Boston Transportation
Plans for a $100,000,000 corporation, to build a great terminal railroad station in the Back Bay, to electrify all the railroad lines within a fifteen-mile radius of Boston and to united them all into a single group, with subway and tunnel connections, were announced by William J. McDonald, real estate operator, through a bill filed by him with the clerk of the House of Representatives today.

The scheme is the most elaborate proposed in many years to revolutionize transportation in Great Britain.

It proposes a giant union station in the Back Bay, between the Boston & Albany yards at the rear of the Mechanics Building.

WOULD USE OLD STATIONS.
The new company would electrify the New Haven and Boston & Maine lines for a distance of fifty miles from the State House. Most of the trains would run directly into the new union station, but the Norton circuit trains of the Boston & Albany railroad and some of the suburban trains on both the Boston & Maine and South stations to the new terminal, is also contemplated.

A tunnel system capable of running all trains under Boston, from the North and South stations to the new terminal, is also contemplated.

MAIL AND EXPRESS.
The new corporation will ask the Legislature for the right to run mail and express and to complete arrangements with the existing lines for the use of their property within the fifteen-mile zone.

The corporation proposes to issue stock with a par value of $100 and would make all its plans and reports to the Legislature of 1925 for approval.

There would be twenty-four directors of the corporation, fifteen to be elected by the stockholders, five by the Governor and three by the Mayor of Boston.

BOMB THREAT WRITER HAS SANITY TESTED

New York, Nov. 23.—Julius Reynolds, a native of Switzerland, was arrested today charged with having written the author of a note received at Borough Hall, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, in which the writer, who claimed responsibility for the Wall street explosion in 1920, threatened to blow up the city hall by bombing it. The police said Reynolds talked irrationally and he was sent to the psychiatric ward of a hospital for observation. Reynolds admitted that he had written the note, but declared he did not intend to carry out his threat.

CLEARING UP SYDNEY'S $250,000 FIRE WRECK

Sydney, N. B., Nov. 23.—Clearing of wreckage from yesterday's $250,000 fire in the business district was begun today. One man and one woman were in a hospital suffering from burns. Four buildings were ruined. Miles of telephone wires and hundreds of poles were swept away in the maelstrom which raged while the fire raged in progress. The service between Sydney and Grand Rapids of the Cape Breton Electric Company had been pretty badly damaged.

AVERAGE PAY IN STATE $21.04

To determine the actual conditions of business in this State, the State Department of Labor and Industry has adopted the policy of calling upon employers to report the hours, wages and working conditions of their employees monthly.

Statistics were drawn off today from the reports received from 202 employers, employing 328,052 men and women in the month of October. A digest of these figures shows these facts:

The number of employees increased 1 per cent. over September.

The average weekly wage was $21.04.

The highest pay to any employee in any of the industries was in the printing and publishing of newspapers and periodicals, where the average pay was $23.97.

The average of the two lowest paid industries, cotton goods and hosiery and knit goods were, respectively, $17.31 and $17.51.

Increases in wages were granted in thirteen establishments, of which five were foundries and machine shops, and in not one of the 202 establishments was there a decrease.

80 MURDER DEFENDS COLLEGES

Train Kills 50 in Explosion; Sixty Believed Dead Are Saved

Birmingham, Ia., Nov. 23.—Eighty-four lives were lost and sixty persons were injured in an accident and explosion yesterday in Dolomite No. 3 coal mine of the Woodward Iron Company, according to a statement issued today by Frank H. Crocker, president of the company.

Of the injured thirty-five were removed to their homes; twenty-five were in hospitals. It was believed that there were thirty-eight white, dead and twenty white injured.

HOW BLAME OCCURRED.
At least fifty men lifted in the casualties were either killed or injured, when a train of pit cars running west from the tipple car, into the mine yard in the main entry. This accident caused the slipping of an electric cable, which in turn set off the dust which resulted in the explosion.

The concussion rocked the earth for miles around and occurred so nearly simultaneously with the second, which produced it, that the victims were not aware what was happening.

At dawn the weary watch of the pit appeared to renew hope that the missing might be found, despite announcement that "all the live persons" had been removed. While one black building in the biting cold of the pit. Many children were to be comforted.

JOYOUS REUNIONS

They stood through the long night, watching every crew that emerged. Joy occasionally rewarded women and children by workers turning up at the end of the night, following their escape from two other exits.

The other exits were miles from the main entry and this caused families to be separated from their rescued, several hours in some instances.

80 BELIEVED DEAD, SAVED.

Francisly battling against after-damp for three and one-half hours, sixty miners pocketed in the forty-second west entry of the mine were rescued after they had been given up for lost.

At midnight, when, working in the entry leading directly from the yard, were completely shut off from the surface following the blast. Fearful to penetrate the shaft all of the imprisoned men waited patiently for developments.

An minute ran into hours, the after-damp began to fill the trapped men. A brattice, or protecting wall of coal dust was then piled up to shut off the bad air.

The gas soon penetrated the temporary bulwark and another was constructed.

When members of the rescue team arrived with oxygen, battery and other safety equipment, however, they found all the men still unconscious, and the group was covered to the surface in a state of nervous exhaustion.

DETECTIVE SUBJECTS SLEUTH TO GRILLING

Investigators Check Up Minister's Hurried Movements Just Before Murder

New Brunswick, Nov. 23 (By International News Service).—Although the Somerset County Grand Jury at Somerville has postponed until Monday further investigation of the murder of Rev. Dr. Edward W. Hall and the choir singer, Mrs. James Mills, county detectives were still active today in an effort to gather fresh evidence.

A sensational report was current that for at least three months before he was shot to death along with Mrs. Mills, the Rev. Dr. Hall was under almost constant surveillance by a woman "spy" in the employ of Mrs. Hall.

It is understood the woman trailed Dr. Hall from New Brunswick to Manchester and on one occasion witnessed a meeting between him and Mrs. Mills.

The alleged "spy" was found, but refused to say anything. The authorities, however, have obtained the name of a man who was said to be the woman's sweetheart and are trying to find him. If he succeeded this man probably will be named before the Somerset County Grand Jury.

WOMAN "SPY" QUESTIONED.
When first questioned by detectives, the woman "spy" is said to have assumed a defiant attitude and later took refuge in ignorance. She professed to know nothing about any of the matters on which she was questioned.

The county authorities are collecting information about every act, no matter how trivial, on the part of Dr. Hall on the days just prior to the murder on the night of September 14.

AMERICANS GET 271,000 RAIL READY TO FLEE WORKERS ASK TURK CAPITAL PAY RAISE

Constantinople, Nov. 21 (By the Associated Press).—American and British interests are taking steps to remove their property and personnel in the event that the Lausanne Conference fails to accomplish its purpose of establishing peace in the Near East.

The largest and oldest British business house in Turkey began today to transfer its entire stocks, valued at $1,800,000, from the main street of the city to the docks so that its goods might be immediately removed. This action was a signal for several local firms to close.

American and British concerns have chartered large steamers to carry away their effects and others have insured their stock against looting and incendiarism.

The Near East Relief today transferred 3,000,000 pounds of supplies and additional members of its staff, together with several hundred orphans, to Pirassus about the Belgian steamer Mary Louise.

Plans have been perfected for embarking 450 American residents on United States destroyers and the U. S. S. Pittsburgh, which are stationed here.

Constantinople and Asia Minor were blanketed by a heavy snowfall today.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Railway clerks, freight handlers and station employees, 271,000 in number, today applied for an increase in wages. Application for the wage increase was made before the United States Railway Labor Board by E. M. Fitzgerald, president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees.

"It is becoming continually more difficult for the railway employees to maintain what has been recognized as a comfortable standard of living," Mr. Fitzgerald declared.

Fitzgerald based the claim for wage increases principally on the contention that there has been a material reduction in the purchasing power of railway wages during the past four years and that "considerable increase" must be made to restore the former living standard of the employee.

The present average monthly wages of clerical and station forces are $33.50, an advance of $109.07 under the old Labor Board decision.

According to Fitzgerald, brotherhood officials point out that the Labor Board, since the 1920 ruling, has rendered two other decisions which effected material reductions in the men's pay.

ONLY 32 MORE DAYS TO CHRISTMAS!

MOVIE WORLD NEWS AND GOSSIP

NEWSPAPERS in the smaller cities have commented with some amusement over the fact that Cosmopolitan Productions' film, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," starring Marion Davies, drew a packed house in Los Angeles on the opening night in spite of the fact that seats sold at 15 each.

Not only was this true of Los Angeles, however, but of New York, Boston and Washington. In each of these cities where seats also sold at 15 apiece on the opening nights, there was such a demand for tickets that many were turned away.

For the first time in the history of motion pictures it has been necessary to put on four full performances a day for a picture not playing continuous. This has happened in New York, where four shows a day are now the rule at the Criterion Theatre on Saturdays and holidays. This was made necessary because of the immense and continued patronage in spite of the fact that "When Knighthood Was in Flower" is now well started in its third month.

DIVID POWELL has been selected to play one of the principal male roles in "The Girl in the Moon," an Allan Dwan production, which will be started soon at the Famous Long Island Studio. Bob Daniels and Nina Nadi will have the leading feminine parts in the picture.

AT LAST Louise Brooks has realized a long cherished ambition mainly to appear on the screen minus her comical character. It is said that she has a dressed up part, a vamp wearing slinky gowns, the latest in blarney coiffures and smokes cigarettes with jeweled holders in "The Beautiful and Damned."

JOHN CARR, son of Mary Carr, known to movie fans in all parts of the country for her interpretation of mother roles, will portray the role of Sandy in "The Go Letter," a Cosmopolitan production of a Peter B. Kyne story.

AL KAUFMAN, former heavy-weight contender, has a part in the Metro picture of the Ben Ames Williams' story "All the Brothers Were Valiant." Mr. Kaufman, during his ring career, fought such heavyweights as Jean Willard, Jim Flynn, Jack Johnson and others.

BETTY MERGER, noted actress of the English and American stage, had appeared in only one motion picture before going to Los Angeles to play an important role in Goldwyn's production of "Broken Chains" and "The Christiana." The other one was produced in England, eight years ago, by George Loane Tucker.

GEORGE ADE not only wrote "Black Horse and Bolt," which is to be Thomas Meighana's picture, but he is also the next Paramount picture, but he turned the role of Connecticut with Alfred Green, the director, to find a "small town" with the right kind of atmosphere for the picture. After visiting nearly all of Connecticut they found Litchfield and finally found what they wanted at New Harbor.

CHANCELLOR CUNO TO

URGE MORATORIUM

Berlin, Nov. 23 (By the Associated Press)—Chancellor Wilhelm Cuno today was putting the finishing touches on the organization of his "cabinet of work" with which he plans to go before the Reichstag on Friday. It is believed the new government will base its program on the Weimar Republic's November note to the Reparations Commission which suggested a loan of 1,000,000,000 marks, half of which would be supplied by the Reichsbank, as a means of rehabilitating the German mark. The note also requested a moratorium of three or four years.

The Chances are You Have it

Pyorrhea!

It is sweeping the nation like a Plague
—but you CAN prevent it now

EIGHT out of every ten men and women past the age of thirty have pyorrhea. If you haven't got it you may get it. You should learn what it is and how to combat it.

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums. It is caused by bacteria which lodge between the gums and the teeth or which are forced there by the tooth brush. It makes its first appearance as a rule at the age of about thirty. It is estimated that eighty per cent of all those who have passed this age are afflicted with the disease. It is now known that the loss of teeth during middle age, and toothless old age are almost invariably caused by pyorrhea.

Symptoms Easily Recognized

Pyorrhea is easily recognized. First, the gums become tender; then they bleed easily when brushed; soon pus pockets form and matter exudes; a peculiar bad odor contaminates the breath; later the gums thicken away, and expose the roots of the teeth. Lastly, the teeth loosen and fall out.

If loss of teeth were the only consequence, the disease would not be so menacing; but, it is estimated that if pyorrhea is not checked, the man or woman afflicted with it will swallow eight gallons of pus from the gums during the course of the disease. This pus is absorbed by the system, causing headaches, dyspepsia and intestinal disorders, and such complications as high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, heart disease, Bright's disease and rheumatism. Nowadays, no good physician considers his diagnosis thorough without sending his patient to a reliable dentist for a pyorrhea examination. In many instances supposed cancer of the stomach, rheumatism and other serious diseases have been cured by proper dental treatment.

The Disease Can Be Prevented

Pyorrhea can be prevented in one way only; by killing the germs which cause the disease before they are safely lodged between the gums and the teeth. Until recently it was impossible to do this twice as powerful as pure carbolic acid. Numerous laboratory tests have been made in which one part Zonite to thirty parts water promptly destroyed the germs which cause pyorrhea in the process of saliva.

Destroys Pyorrhea Germs

Zonite, although non-poisonous, is more than twice as powerful as pure carbolic acid. Numerous laboratory tests have been made in which one part Zonite was mixed with thirty parts of saliva taken from the mouths of pyorrhea patients. In every case the saliva was rendered sterile—all germs were killed.

Zonite will prevent pyorrhea. This statement is endorsed by leading bacteriologists of the country. The disease in its earlier stage has been entirely checked in a few days' time. If the disease is so far advanced that the germs have worked down toward the roots of the teeth beyond reach of the antiseptic, dental treatment is absolutely necessary, after which Zonite will prevent the return of the disease.

If the present generation of Americans will rinse the mouth each morning with Zonite and water and sterilize the tooth brush by letting it stand for a few moments in Zonite and water, pyorrhea will positively be prevented and we will be a healthier and happier people.

As a Mouth Wash

Standard laboratory tests show that one part Zonite to thirty parts water promptly destroyed the germs which cause pyorrhea in the process of saliva.

Most contagious diseases result from disease germs that enter the system through the delicate membranes of the mouth, nose, throat, etc. Hence the daily use of a real germ destroyer, mouth wash, gargle or spray is a most potent means of preventing these diseases.

Authorities show that nearly all of the popular, so-called mild antiseptics and mouth washes fail to destroy violent disease germs. Consequently, they do not accomplish the very thing for which they are used.

As a mouth wash or gargle add one half teaspoonful of Zonite to one fourth of a glass of water.

Noice to Dentists:

A 50 per cent solution of Zonite makes a Dakin's solution; no testing required. Because of its stability, Zonite will be found superior to Dakin's for use in cases of pyorrhea.

DOROTHY GORDON'S SUIT ENTERS BATTLE OVER GUARDIANSHIP

WILL TESTIFY DESPITE THE PROTEST BY UNCLE

She has been beating down all those involved. GIRLS' AUNT ENTERS CASE. She is Mrs. Catherine Hughes of Jamaica Plain—Dorothy Gordon's aunt. Mrs. Hughes figures as an heir of Dorothy Gordon. As such, she feels that she cannot longer stand by and see the estate's funds spent in legal bickerings. She objects to such of the romance between her brother and the seventeen-year-old Elizabeth. Gardiner, who came to work in his then modest company of the child who was born out of wedlock; of the double life led by her brother, maintaining two marriages; of the stubborn refusal of Mrs. Gordon to give her husband a divorce; of her death and her brother's refusal to marry the girl's widow; of his death a short time after; then of Dorothy's mother's death; and the feud that was born then between her and her father. WILL CARRY ON FIGHT. Dorothy's suit has seen how, one before, a legal battle between Gardiner and her father, with the guardianship at stake, cut into the estate to the tune of thousands of dollars; how during the years that Gardiner was guardian, the great bulk of expenditures went for his fee and for legal expense. The present proceeding is more bitter and more costly than the first. Mrs. Hughes' resistance further invades into Dorothy's inheritance as the result of the legal battle. That is the basis of her determination to enter the case. Her very entrance was marked to day by a spirited battle between the Gardiner and Gordon forces. It was Attorney Noyes, acting for Gardiner, who requested Judge Leggett in Middlesex Probate Court, East Cambridge, to permit Mrs. Hughes to enter as a party in the case.

Attorney John L. Sheehan, acting for Dorothy's uncle, took exception to Judge Leggett's finding in making Dorothy's aunt a party to the case. He asserted that it would carry the issue to the Supreme Court.

SESSION IS SPIRITED. Today's conference in Judge Leggett's court was long and spirited. It was conducted by the lawyers at the bench. The motion of Attorney Dodge and Noyes, which was granted, means that Mrs. Hughes is given a status to be heard in the conduct of the hearing and particularly as to expenditures made from the estate.

Attorney Dodge, of Mrs. Hughes' counsel, said after the conference: "Mrs. Hughes, as Dorothy's aunt, became disgusted with the expense growing out of the case and wanted to watch expenditures. Therefore she is going to be represented in all proceedings. The money to prevent this great expense being paid from the Gordon estate and we are going to stop it, if we possibly can."

In trying Mrs. Hughes' participation in the suit's proceedings, Attorney Dodge explained that the aunt was "presumptive heir" to Dorothy's estate, and, in that capacity, had a right to become a party. Dodge contended that the hearing before Attorney Dodge had gone beyond its intended and legal scope.

He claimed it involved financial matters solely and should not have been launched into such legal as Dorothy's commitment to an insane asylum and other phases raised at the hearing. He said he could not understand why Attorney Peavey had permitted such matters to be discussed.

ORDERED BY SHEEHAN. Attorney Sheehan argued that Mrs. Hughes had no status in the controversy. He said that Dorothy had been legally adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon after their marriage and that unless an adopted child died intestate as a son or other direct heir had no standing. Attorney Sheehan made the further statement that it had never been positively established, so far as the other side was concerned, that Gordon "was Dorothy's blood father," and that this point would be brought to the attention of the court.

He further asserted that he and his associates had a perfect right to bring into the suit's proceedings Dorothy's commitment to McLean Asylum in view of the expense accruing from her presence and treatment there.

In granting the request of Mrs. Hughes' counsel, Judge Leggett paid tribute to Attorney Peavey as a man of long experience in such matters who could be depended on to do his duty properly and fairly.

Dorothy's Aunt Blocks Pleas for Lawyers' Fees. Attorney Robert Dodge, who with Herbert R. Morse, appeared before Judge Leggett in the Probate Court for Mrs. Catherine E. Rogers, Dorothy Gordon's aunt, explained that Mrs. Hughes had succeeded in blocking an application by both sides for counsel fees.

"The side tried to draw on the estate for counsel fees," Attorney Dodge said. "We intended to prevent such drawing for the present."

situation as it now stands, the auditor's hearing. Attorney Sheehan's appeal to Judge Leggett's decision of today and the question of the appointment of a permanent guardian.

"Gardiner and Gordon have both petitioned to be appointed guardians and the case will come up in January. Mrs. Hughes has signed Judge Leggett's petition."

ERSKINE CHILDERS LOSES ON APPEAL FOR LIFE TO IRISH COURT

STAY OF EXECUTION REFUSED DE VALERA'S CHIEF AIDE

Dublin, Nov. 23.—An irregular leader, Tom Hales, said to have been a member of the ambush party that shot Michael Collins to death, was captured today by Free State troops.

Dublin, Nov. 23 (By International News Service).—Erskine Childers, chief aide of Eamon De Valera in the Irish Republican cause, lost his legal fight against the validity of the Free State court-martial which had tried and condemned him. Hales' corpus proceedings had been adjourned in the Irish O'Connor in the Chancery Court.

Major of the Irish O'Connor refused to grant a stay of execution against the sentence of Childers and eight other irregular prisoners. An appeal was immediately filed by Childers' counsel. Although the exact nature of the sentence imposed upon Childers was not known, it was generally believed that he had been sentenced to death pending affirmation of the verdict by the Free State Cabinet. When the Irish court is proved true, Childers' friends will "take" the end of the process. Since a report was printed that the sentence called for deportation of Childers and eight other irregular prisoners, but this was not officially announced.

6,000 BRITISH TO GO TO AUSTRALIA

Sydney, Australia, Nov. 23.—The New South Wales Parliament continued today the agreement with the imperial government and the governments of Australia and New South Wales by which 6,000 British settlers will be placed on land in this State at a cost of $25,000,000. Sir George Fuller described the project as the biggest immigration scheme ever undertaken.

Boston "Buds" to Attend Vanderbilt Birthday Party, Betty Alden Hears

By BETTY ALDEN.

A NUMBER of Bostonians, I understand, are going down to the keenly anticipated home-coming and birthday celebration which William H. Vanderbilt is giving this Friday at "Oakdale Farm," the Newport estate which he recently, came into.

To judge by advance reports, the Vanderbilt party promises to be quite an affair, and there has been not a little anticipatory chattering among those who have received the coveted "bids"—as well as those who haven't. Several of the debutantes are going down with their mothers along with a number of older folk.

Among the guests whom the youthful host has invited are the officers of the destroyer on which he served as an ensign during the war, and it is interesting to note that this ship was commanded by Paul Fitz-Simons, young Vanderbilt's stepfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitz-Simons returned a little while ago from one of their recent trips to South America, and are making a short stay at "Harbortown," their Newport estate. They have as their house guests a number of people who are attending the Vanderbilt party.

MRS. GEORGE ALMY PERCY (Miss Davis) is visiting in Washington with her aunt, Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins. Mrs. Percy's mother, Mrs. Armstrong Davis, has returned after a six months' absence in Europe to her Washington apartment, where she will have with her for the winter her mother, Mrs. Henry H. Armstrong of New York.

AFTER a gay Autumn at Tuxedo Park, Mr. and Mrs. Amory S. Carhart (Isadora Bliss) are delighted for the winter in New York at their Park avenue apartment.

Mrs. Carhart was one of the matrons in charge of the brilliant Autumn ball held recently at the Tuxedo Club, which winds up the Fall season at the Park. It is probably the most swag event held at Tuxedo, and everybody gives a house party to entertain the out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Carhart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Bliss of Commonwealth avenue who left earlier in the month to spend the winter in California at Santa Barbara. The former Isadora Bliss is pictured here with her infant son, who, to judge by his genial smile, seems to be endowed with a very sunny disposition.

A PROPOS of the Carharts—the marriage of the popular Boston girl to the young New Yorker—was in the Harvard 20 class—took place a few years ago.

Their marriage was only one of the long list of Boston-New York alliances, the latest of the list being added on Friday when William De Ford Seal and Miss Beatrice Starr of Gotham were married in the Central Presbyterian Church. Early in June Miss Lillian Aldrich of Boston street became the bride of John Gordon Winchcombe of New York; a fortnight later came the ceremony which united Miss Harriet Sears Amory of Boston and Warwick Potter, another Gotham man; also in June came the wedding of Miss Katherine Winslow, daughter of the George B. Winslow of Chestnut street, and Louis B. McCaig, Jr., of New York, who received his sheepskin from Harvard just a few days before he joined the ranks of the Senate.

One of the most important cereimonials of the Easter season was that which made Miss Rosanna D. Pike the bride of Lloyd R. B. Baskin, Jr., of New York. These auspicious events have taken

LABOR CHIEF, IN PARLIAMENT, OPENS FIGHT

London, Nov. 23 (By the Associated Press).—J. Ramsay MacDonald, Laborite and leader of the opposition, declared in the House of Commons this afternoon the statement in the speech from the throne regarding unemployment, was profoundly unsatisfactory to labor. He said it showed the government had no real appreciation of a terrible tragedy.

Mr. MacDonald said the Labor Party had no interest in the ameliorative measures of the late government, mentioned in the King's speech, but in the blunders of that government which had created the conditions from which the country was now suffering.

He called attention to the fact that there were 1,300,000 unemployed. The Laborite, he said, proposed to introduce an amendment to the speech from the throne to show what labor would do to relieve the situation. He appealed to Premier Bonar Law to receive the delegation of unemployed leaders who have been trying to gain an audience for some days.

The King in his speech after stating Parliament had been called especially to pass the Irish Free State bill said the questions of unemployment and State expense gave him "deep concern."

"Ameliorative measures prepared by my late government are being examined afresh, and you will be asked to make provision for their continuance extension," said King George.

"You will be asked, also, to guarantee a loan, in accordance with the scheme of National schemes for the restoration of Austria."

"Negotiations for a settlement of difficulties in the Near East are proceeding, and it is my hope that at the conference at Lausanne the efforts of my ministers, acting in whole-hearted co-operation with the representatives of our allies, may result in the reestablishment of peace and the restoration of security to the inhabitants of regions which have recently been the scene of so much suffering. "And I pray that the blessing of Almighty God may rest upon your deliberations."

London, Nov. 23 (By International News Service).—Former President David Lloyd George today was unanimously elected leader of the National Liberal Party. This is one of two factions of the original Liberal Party. The other is led by former Premier Asquith.

Asquith's faction has been in all after a Golden Gate Speech—Asquith.

John Brumfit of London

A John Brumfit pipe fills the heart of the smoker with supreme content. The thoroughly seasoned Italian briar of which it is made gives a cool, delightful smoke. Every pipe is fashioned with a skill found only in the work of a trained English workman.

For England is the land of pipe-smokers. It is from them that Americans, too, have learned the solace of a sweet pipe.

We are importing John Brumfit pipes from London. We suggest them as Christmas gifts for business men, doctors, lawyers, professors—in short, for every man who loves his pipe.

Other things of interest to the smoker will be found in the same department. Ostrich leather cigar cases, silver cigarette cases, match boxes, tobacco pouches, mahogany or silver humidor, cigar and cigarette holders—all delight the man who smokes.

BROWN MEN EXPECT A VICTORY FOR BEAR

By CROSSBAR.

Brown men expert & Brown victor at Fenway Park Saturday afternoon.

Such an expectation is nothing new for Brown men, I am about to oppose Dartmouth, for Brown has won many a battle from this school. The last time Dartmouth came to Fenway was in late season matches twice have prevailed. Dartmouth teams from acquiring the Eastern championship.

This approaching occasion, however, is the first in many years when a team from the North-east has approached a Dartmouth battle as the team favored to win.

The presence of both Dartmouth and Brown on the Harvard schedule this year gave Great Britain and Ireland a chance to see the Army's Fenway Park opponents. Each played impressively against the Crimson, and had Dartmouth been present the battle would have been a lied her due, Dartmouth as well as Brown would have come forth victorious.

It kept to the Green's able but unfortunate showing, and the fact that Brown was not opposed by Harvard's first string backs, the impression made by the Providence team made the greater hit. The fact was that Brown shored an attack which, although not producing a touchdown, was a very real threat whenever Dartmouth's offense proved unworthy of the name.

It was in the fourth quarter, remarkably strong defensively, the edge is granted to the Brown team.

The line is heavy and rangy, with Guilford and Eckstein, the players who do the most work more than the others.

Stretching Point to Say Brown Line is Stronger

But as to the Brown vanguard, or line past showing, holds an advantage over the Green line, would be stretching a point.

In the Dartmouth Harvard game, the left tackle was Nollinger, the left guard was Moore, the center, the very men who the way, who play opposite Eitelstein and Gulian, were the Green strong points, with Aschenbach leading them for home, but since that game, although the men of Moors, Neddliger and Aschenbach has proved constantly good. Hatch the Green's first tackle, but the Green's have been able to get the Cornell steam-roller foul, but Hatch's position the most difficult to attack. And throughout the season this play of Lynch is right, but the Green's have been able to win while Workman, except when he was injured in the Cornell contest, has been playing relatively well on the left flank.

In fact, if one line shows any advantage over the other, it is the Green side which has the advantage.

Frothingham Phibbs on Bachelors and Men Who Are Married

By Nat N. Dorfman

"A BACHELOR" began Frothingham Phibbs for no reason at all, "has the course of his convictions." "For which he should be rewarded," returned Mrs. Amanda Phibbs, "bachelors ruin more good married men by their nefarious proceedings than the devil."

"Oh," flared up the late misanthrope, "you get me tired with your tirades and banterings on women, who would think you were in jail or behind prison bars."

"I may not be behind prison bars," cried Mr. Phibbs, exultant, "but you must admit marriage is a man from the independent position guaranteed him by the constitution. With a bachelor every day a independence law."

"Go ahead," shouted Amanda, scoffing, "shoot all your words on bachelors now. You might as well get it off your chest before it explodes there. One would presume from the way you cackle that I'm interfering with your cherished liberty."

"Yes, only in my case I don't agree it."

"Indeed not. You'd probably be arrested for using indecent language. And to think when I married you were as meek as a lamb."

"You bet I was," cut in Phibbs, "but even a lamb kicks when he's brought to the slaughter, or rather the altar."

"On the other hand," began the misanthrope, with a new trend of thought, "how about the bachelor man. Take Mary Thompson, look how independent she is."

"Just then Mrs. Phibbs, the next-door neighbor, or rather neighbor, slipped into the room as excited as a fellow chased by a swarm of bees.

"You haven't heard the news, have you?" she asked. "Bill Jandricks and Mary Thompson have eloped."

"Eloped?" cried Mr. and Mrs. Frothingham Phibbs.

"Yes, I understand both were tired of their care-free, independent existence. Life was very uninteresting to them so they decided to get married and get some of the happiness denied them."

By Our Own Society Reporter

THOMAS FULTON, the noted West End lecturer who was married recently to Sarah Phibbs, is quite in favor of a superior like.

Mary Ryan, the bathing beauty, says she has enough with life guards for life. The bathing season is too short to devote time throughout the Fall, Spring and Winter months to Mary's complaint.

Tim Smith, Cambridge baker, is in envy of his pale. He knows how to make his own cake in the collar where he works.

Peter Scott, the South End trotter, is out of a job at the present time. He declares things are slack in his line.

Frederick Drake, the East Boston pilot, who is a stickler for preparedness, bought himself a new high powered motorboat. He says he isn't going to take any chances with the present Congress on the three-mile law.

June Winter, a chorus girl of Columbus avenue, married George Flood of Chelsea, and now she has been elevated to a speaking part.

Ed Hoag, the Concord street dandy, who works in the slaughter house, says he's through working for a while. Well, '33 always did take life easy.

Andy Lawlor, the Charlestown speed man, was horribly humiliated in his race yesterday by a chorus girl. She declared he was so slow it took him fully ten minutes to pick her up when five minutes is usually the limit with her.

Ned Green, known in Kerry Village as the weather prophet for many years, has gone back on his friends. He found a doctor who finally cured him of his rheumatism, and he's about as useful now as a clean puff at a stag.

ARE YOU TOO SELF-SATISFIED?
Perfectly satisfied with yourself, are you? Made quite a lot of yourself, you think—much more than many men you know, who had the same or a poorer beginning? If this is your state of mind, your progress has stopped. It is the man dissatisfied with himself who goes forward. You did work hard for a while to get your head and it may be better than you expected; but it is far less than others have accomplished who have had the same handicaps.

Doing less than your best—and yet you have settled back in the tracks.

The world is advancing, and if you are not going forward, it is backward. You are always going. You may do well in your chosen line, but if you do not progress with the world, you are bigger and broader in your profession, you are not keeping up. If you have amassed sufficient to meet your needs for the remainder of your life, you can with safety reduce pressure on yourself, but you cannot afford to let up if you have yet to get together enough to see you through.
